Anglican priest gets suspended sentence

ADELAIDE: An Anglican priest convicted of trying to encourage two boys to mas-turbate in front of him last year had a 12-month suspended sentence imposed by the District Court in Adeide yesterday.

Raymond Frederick Ayles, 48, was found guilty of two counts of attempting to pro-cure the two 15-year-olds to

In passing sentence yesterday Judge Anthony Russell said the charges related to an incident at a church camp in 1991 when Ayles spoke to the boys at length about sex-ual matters and encouraged them to masturbate in front

Ayles pleaded not guilty to the charges and said he had been conducting a sex education

However, Judge Russell said the jury obviously rejected that explanation.

He said he regarded the offences as serious especially consid-ering the position Ayles held in the community.

The judge applied a six-month non-parole period to the 12-month main sentence but sus-Avles agreed to an 18-month od-behaviour bond.

Counsel for Ayles, Kevin Borick, said the priest risked losing everything if a planned ap-peal against his conviction was unsuccessful.

Mr Borick said Ayles had ten-dered his resignation as a priest to the Anglican Arch-bishop and it would also take effect if his appeal failed.

IN BRIEF

Defamation claim lost

SYDNEY: A woman attempting to sue a newspaper for defamation over two dog stories had her clain judge yesterday.

Marie Lorraine Armstrong tool action over articles published in the Illawarra Mercury on October 15 and 16 last year.

Ms Armstrong said they implied she failed to prevent a savage dog, which she owned, from attacking a young child.

However, Justice Levine said the articles reflected nothing defamator

Compensation due

SYDNEY: Byron Bay council must pay three owners almost $1 million for a stretch of NSW north coast after it was reserved for community use, the Land and Environment Court said yesterday. Justice Bannon ordered the council pay the applicants Donald Cochrane, James Mangleson and Annabelle Gallagher $330,693 each.

Appeal allowed

SYDNEY: An appeal by a law student over the discharge of pollutants by companies was of public importance, the court of appeal ruled yesterday.

Justice Priestley dismissed an application to have the appeal application to have the appeal stopped until the student, Alexander Brown, lodged $15,000 security for

SYDNEY: A former tea lady whose worker's compensation was cut off suddenly after 18 years was still entitled to the weekly pay-ments, the Federal Court has ruled.

Justice Einfeld said in his ruling

Ruling lessens extent of fraud protection and 1988

Firms which insure against employee fraud may not have anything like the protection they think they have, as a result of a recent High Court ruling.

Edwards Dunlop & Co found out how little insurance protection it really had when its attempt to recoup a $695,450 employee-inspired fraud ended up in the High Court.

A snokesman for the Insurance Council of Australia, Ted Williams, said the decision highlighted the fact that employers could not be complacent about fraud by assuming they could rely solely on insurance.

In a majority decision on Tues-day, the High Court said Edwards Dunlop could only have made a suc-cessful insurance claim if it had discovered the fraud within 12 months of its annually renewed "blanket fidelity policy" expiring each year.

Each year between 1984 and 1989, the company insured itself with C. E. Heath Underwriting and Insurance year it had an "industrial special risks policy".

This was replaced by a blanket over liability for losses between 1987 fidelity policy.

Both policies provided, in effect, that the insurer was liable only if the company's loss through fraud was discovered within a year of the expiration of the policy period. The poli-cies were renewed annually. The insurer's argument was that there were successive policy periods of 12 months each and any fraud not discovered within a year of the last expired policy period could not be

Edwards Dunlop argued that the policy was extended each time it was renewed so that the policy period ran from 1983 to 1989, as long as the losses were discovered no later than In 1988, the company discovered that one of its employees had misappropriated $695,450 between 1982 and 1988. The company could not claim for licy remained in force. This could only mean that a "policy period" was an annual period and that the insurer's position was cor-

> Justice Mary Gaudron tended to agree. But she thought the insurer was liable for losses sustained after April, 1986.

pre-May, 1983, losses because there had been no policy in force. There was apparently no dispute

What was in dispute was whether

In their joint judgment, Justice

Edwards Dunlop could claim for

Daryl Dawson, John Toohey and Michael McHugh, said each renewal of the policy constituted a new con-

The policy stated, unambiguous-ly, that liability was not cumulative, regardless of the number of years the Justice William Deane thought the insurer was liable for all losses after May, 1983. He said that in cases difficult to ascertain precisely when the loss was sustained.

If the insurer's argument was accepted, there would be a very substantial gap in the insured's coverbeen discovered within the overall

The judge thought the wording of the policy was ambiguous, although he would not go as far as the NSW appeal court judge who had said the policy could not have been more per-plexing if it had been deliberately drafted to generate ambiguity

Justice Deane concluded that the courts should avoid a construction of an insurance policy which had the effect that the insured, having paid a premium to be indemnified against a particular type of loss, was subjected to a new risk of not being insured at because of the ambiguity or obscurity of the language which the insurer had seen fit to use.

Pensioner identified in war crimes trial

ADELAIDE: A Ukrainian witness has identified Adelaide pensioner Ivan Polyukhovich as a man he knew as Ivanechko near the village of Serniki in the Ukraine in 1942.

Said the last time he saw Ivanechko was in the Ukraine in early 1943.

"In 1943 it was the last time, it was about in March," he said.

Prosecutors have alleged the accused had the street name or nick-

Witness Ivan Timofeyevich Po-lyukhovich, who has the same name as the accused and is related to him by marriage, made the identification in the Supreme Court yesterday. The witness, 64, said that in 1942 Ivanechko had entered his house in the Ukraine armed with a rifle and he remembered being about half a metre away from the weapon. He name of Ivanechko while he lived in the area near Serniki.

Under cross-examination by dether closs-examination by de-fence lawyer Michael David, QC, the witness gave evidence about the existence of a Jewish ghetto in the village of Serniki, and said coiled barbed wire had been placed around some Jewish houses.

He is charged with being knowingly involved in the murder of be-tween 553 and 850 Jews in 1942, and the second count relates to the murder of a Jewish woman and two Jewish children.

In 1990, Australian investigators exhumed a mass grave in a forest outside Serniki and found hundreds of skeletal remains. The trial, before Justice Cox, is

Adelaide pensioner Ivan Polyu-

Papers suggest deceit

BRISBANE: A former Southern Cross Airlines deputy chairman, Douglas Reid, may have misled fellow directors with a string of forger-ies in the company's dying days, according to documents lodged in Queensland's Supreme Court.

Documents alleged also that he took $4.9 million from the company in its infancy.

An affidavit from an Australian

Securities Commission investigator makes claims of "suspicious financial transactions" involving the company, which operated the now-collapsed airline Compass

The claims have been denied through Reid's lawyers, one of whom has provided an affidavit saying that Reid seemed confused and con-cerned by court proceedings against him and is being treated for high blood pressure.

Included in the ASC court claims are details of the $4.9 million pay-ment said to have been made when Reid had "absolute control" of the company's finances in 1992.

Investigator Shane Patrick Wilson said in the affidavit, "This was the period of time between the public float of the Southern Cross prospectus and the appointment of a senior financial controller over Southern

Boy remanded on shooting charge

ADELAIDE: A 14-year-old boy appeared in the Adelaide Children's Court yesterday after a shooting in-cident at an Adelaide high school on

He faced a total of 13 charges including two counts of unlawful wounding, two counts of acts to en-danger life, four counts of threatening a person with a firearm, one count of acting in a manner likely to cause harm and numerous firearms

There was no application for ball and he was remanded in custody to

Packer wins early round in suing ABC

Kerry Packer has won a prelimi-nary round in his defamation action against the Australian Broadcasting Corporation which, the millionaire businessman claims, implied he was a corporate

Mr Packer is suing the ABC and nine others, including its head, Da-vid Hill, and senior journalist Ker-ry O'Brien in the ACT Supreme Court.

He is alleging that a Lateline pro-gram in 1990, entitled The Horse has Bolted, defamed him. The pro-gram dealt with corporate fraud and the responsibility of those who had controlled companies which had lost large sums of money in recent years.

The program included images of Mr Packer talking to the then Prime Minister, Bob Hawke. One such image was presented during a dis-cussion about fraud and the failure of government to punish those re-

Mr Packer has alleged that the program implied that he was guilty

By PETER CLACK,

City Reporter

The Chief Magistrate, Ron Cahill, has signed new measures into effect to prevent the unnecessary attendance of police officers at court in minor matters where there

The Attorney-General, Terry Connolly, told the Legislative As-sembly on Wednesday that from this week police were no longer re-quired to wait at court in their dozens, placing a heavy strain on police overtime and penalties resources and keeping many officers away from police operations.

Mr Cahill has signed a direction allowing the police informant to stay away where guilty pleas were made on summary offences, common assault, theft or destroying or damaging property offences where the value of the property was less than $1000, and theft or damaging and destroying property offences

It would involve "the vast raft"

Court orders resumption of compensation

She had been working as a tea lady for the Commonwealth Direc-tor of Works, at Australia Square in inner Sydney, since 1963.

relating to motor vehicles.

is a guilty plea.

of corporate fraud; that he had act of corporate fraud; that he had acted deceitfully in manipulating company accounts; that he had acted dishonestly in stripping companies of their assets for his personal benefit; that he had bribed politicians; and that he had engaged in disrepu table financial dealings.

The ABC has denied that these

Mr Hogan disallowed the ques-tions on the ground that they were legally "oppressive". Not only had the ABC used an inappropriate method to seek the information, it had also been after information un ecessary for its defence

Police presence move will save funds: A-G imputations arise, or that the pro-gram was defamatory of Mr Packer.

The matter recently came before the Master of the Supreme Court, Alan Hogan, when Mr Packer ob-jected to having to answer a num-ber of formal questions relating to people who had told Mr Packer they had seen the program and/or had told him they thought the pro-gram had damaged his reputation.

of summary offences, common as-

"This will achieve significant savings," he said. It will mean a situation where you wander over to the Magistrates Court on a Monday morning and see 15 to 20 police officers effectively hanging about waiting for cases to be called on and usually giving evidence that lasts for seconds if not minutes."

This would no longer occur and police could be redeployed and would not have to work on over-cer had to give evidence in court after completing a shift, placing the officer on a double shift and attracting high, additional costs.

If the defendant or court re-quested it, police would attend.
"So we are doing it in a way that we protect the rights of defendants but we will significantly reduce the requirement for police to give quite unnecessary evidence," he said.

She took the matter to the Administrative Appeals Tribuna which in 1991 found she was total ly incapacitated for work and entit led to compensation.

COMCARE then appealed to

No date for a full hearing of the

RAVAGA

INVESTMENT stirling.

A WORK OF ART Caroline Bosly was Genuine Persian rugs can take many, many years Office of Information to to complete and are represent Britain in the considered by collectors field of Oriental carpets and connoisseurs alike as which is a billion pound investments in beauty and

If you seek to aquire a greater understanding of elite Persian & Oriental carpets - you are welcome to view the work of several master weavers at Canberra's National Convention Centre this weekend.

Prices are well below any recent rug "sale". The reductions are genuine and not a mathematical impossibility.

HISTORY

UNIQUE INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY

Leading international carpet broker, Caroline Bosly, has researched extensively the mystique of hand-woven carpets. In her brilliant book, titled "Rugs to Riches", Ms Bosly estimates on sound background returns of 30% per annum.

For example bought in 1990 for 6,275 pounds stirling by the year 1995 is estimated to be appointed by the Central industry. Ms Bosly's book is published by George Allen and Unwin in London. The following table, based on Caroline Bosly's book shows an increase in the prices of fine Persian and oriental carpets. Estimates future increases in carpet prices.

QUASIIGAI

OCASIIGAI 6 x 4ft was $1,100 NOW $1900 1,000's To BE CLEARED!

> Price Year 6275 1992 10604 1993 13786 1994 17922

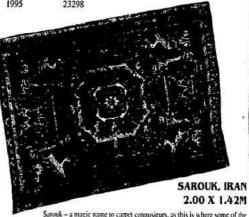

You can afford a rug today at a special offer this weekend in Canberra. We are offering all of our customers 12 months interest free. Take a rug home today and pay it off over a 12 month period interest -free. This is a once -in-a-lifetime opportunity.

Take the rug of your choice home today. Pay over 12 months completely free of interest and charges.

urs, as this is where some of the very highest quality pieces in the Western and Oriental collections originated. This museum quality example has design affinities with the rectilinear antique Heriz designs and related Fereghan pieces but the structure is clearly Sarouk.

In the far North-West of Persia, within the province of Azerbaijan lies the town of Heriz. Heriz, noted for the production of handwoven rugs dating back to the golden age of the Safavid Shahs, possess a balance of colour and design that classes them amongst the loveliest in the world. Designs are usually characterised by sharp angles of line and geometric shapes that conform to well established family traditions. Work is carried out entirely from memory without a planned model or chart, which sometimes results in charming variations or mis-matches of colour and design. Well known for thier robustness, they are surely the Prince of Rugs.

DHURRIES

VAS $395

100 PIECES

3 x 2ft was $39

5 x 3ft was $139

6 x 4ft was $189

12 x 9ft was $840

After 18 years of allowing her compensation, the Commission For The Rehabilitation and Safety of Commonwealth Employees (COM-CARE) suddenly cut off her payments in January 1989. on Wednesday 62-year-old Despina Hairis developed a disabling psy-chological condition after a laden the Federal Court. Justice Einfeld dismissed the appeal and ordered COMCARE to pay the costs of Mrs Hairis. tea trolley fell on her arm in 1971.

LAW LIST FOR TODAY

FAMILY COURT
Before Justice Finn in Court 1
30am: Leemhuis. 9.30am: Leemhuis.

Before Judicial Registrar Nikakis in Court 2 at 9.30am: Jaksic. At 9.45am:
Todd. At 10am: McCann. At 10am:
The dissolution list as follows: Briggs, Pinner, Smith, Fryer, Hunt, Furnival/Wood, Trawick, Thompson, Hanlon/Thompson, Dunn, Djalog, Neil, Schick, Buckley, Miller, Cassidy/Arcowsmith, Brewer, Foulcher, Carter, Fuller/William, Tarchalski, O'Connor.
SUPREME COURT OF A.C.T.
Before the Master in Court 1, ACT

Before the Master in Court 1, ACT Law Courts, starting at 10am: Motions: Criminal injuries compensation: In the matter of an application. Appellate Jurisdiction: Vrakas v Smith trading as Tridents; Jackson v Boys and another; Marks v National and General Insurance Co Ltd.

Civil Jurisdiction: Hrvojevic v Givil Jurisdiction: Hrvojevic v Fisher, Smyth v Briggs and another, Taira (T & T) Pty Ltd trading as Cannons Food Barns Stores v Federal Captial Press trading as The Canberra Times; Trigg v Commissioner of Housing for the ACT; Kahsai v Haile; Clarke v Rankin; Hutchinson v Katsigiannis and another; Skywest Aviation Pty Ltd v C of A; Cadoroll Pty Ltd and others v Mauntill Pty Ltd.

Before the Deputy Registrar in Court 6, ACT Law Courts, starting at 9,30am: Return of subpoenas: Klefisch v Franklins Ltd; Hartas v ACTEA; Adams by his next friend Adams and another v Hutchison; Christian v Fernando; Corsini v C of A; Harrison v Nomina; Defendant and another; Novosel v L; evers Interior Directions Pty Ltd; Clarke v Rankin; Nonas v Timnor Pty Ltd; Clarke Renior Member Grimes, Mr Russell, Member, HG Julian DSC, Member, Hearing Room 1, fourth floor, Canberra House, 40 Marcus Clarke Street, Canberra: Hearing; 10.15am; Papadopoulos and Commissioner for Superannuation.

Before Senior Member Allen: Telephone Conference: 10am: Haynes and Repatriation Commission.

phone Conference: IUAIII. Implied Repatration Commission.
AUSTRALIAN INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS COMMISSION: ACT
REGISTRY
Senior Denuty President REGISTRY
Before Senior Deputy President
Riordan in Hearing Room I, at 9.30am: ACT Minister for Urban Services, ACT Minister for Industrial Re-lations and ACT Fire Commissioner and United Firefighters Union of Australia re: redeployment and redundan cy conditions for firefighters employed by the ACT. At 10am: Public Sector Professional, Scientific Research Technical, Communications, Aviation and Broadcasting Union and Univers ty of Canberra re: log of claims. A 10.15am: University of Canberra Automotive, Metals and Engineering Union, Health Services Union of Aus tralia, Australian Liquor, Hospitality and Miscellaneous Workers Union and Public Sector, Professional, Scientific Research, Technical, Communica-tions, Aviation and Broadcasting Union re: application for certification of agreement.

Before Commissioner Peterson i Betore Commissioner Peterson in Hearing Room 2 at 9.30am: Printing and Kindred Industries Union and ACN Pty Ltd re: termination pay-ments. At 9.30am: Printing and Kin-dred Industries Union and Disc Deed Pty Ltd re: continuity of service/em syment protection.

Avenue, Canberra, at 10am: Bakery Employees and Salesmen's Federation of Australia of Australia and Tip Top Bakeries (Canberra) re: alleged unfair dismissal

SPECIALS OF THE WEEK

On sale are 250 pieces at 30 - 60% off normal prices as part of our promotional sale.

TRIBAL & CHINESE & EXTRA LARGE
VILLAGE RUGS HANDCRAFTED CARPETS 9 x 6ft was $1650 Herity NOW $825 10 x 8ft was $3,950 NOW $1950 5 x 3ft was $495 NOW $ 139 12 x 9ft was $2995 BORHARA 12 x 9ft was $2,950 NOW $1250 Persian Baluciii 6 x 4ft was $1290 NOW $435 NOW $1350 4 x 2ft was $440 NOW $169 LAHORE WAS $1,900 NOW $995 TURKAMAN 9x ofit was $3,900 up to 60% OFF NOW $1900 8 x 8ft sq. Navy Blue

Double Knot Open-field Design 12 x 9ft was $2950 NOW $1100

PLUS MANY MORE BARGAINS!

NOW $1900

ALL MAJOR CREDIT CARDS ACCEPTED OR CHEQUES WITH I.D. TODAY

THE WEEK

9 x 4.2ft was $950 NOW $410 8 x 4.5ft was $650 NOW $300 NOW $900 5.6 x 3.6ft was $650 NOW $259 PERSIAN

KILIMS

12 x 8ft was $3600 NOW $1800 PERSIAN SOMACK 9 x 4ft was $3100 NOW $1400

All carpets guaranteed to be authentic and hand made

HALL RUNNER 12 x 3.6ft was $795 NOW $345 NOW $11 14 x 3ft was $1100 NOW $450 NOW $55 PERSIAN HAMADAN 9.6 x 2.8ft was $1395 NOW $89 NOW $695 PERSIAN TABRIZ NOW $185 8 x 2.5ft was $2,300 NOW $950 NOW $299 PERSIAN HAMADAN 11 x 3ft was $1,400 NOW $695 PRINCESS BOKHARA 6 x 2ft was $299 NOW $129

TO 8PM

SATURDAY & SUNDAY THE NATIONAL CONVENTION CENTRE - CANBERRA (MURRAY ROOM) PHONE 018 257 591

PERSIAN CARPET

GALLERY